Contestants can choose to submit one poster that accurately represents either WELS Home Missions or WELS World Missions. Artists can also choose to complete two posters, one for each category. Use of outreach-themed Bible passages is encouraged but not mandatory. Artist statements are also encouraged with each submission. It could include the inspiration behind your creative process, the medium or techniques used to create it, the message or emotions you aim to convey, what you hope viewers take away from the experience, or significant influences that shaped your work.

Judges will consider the interpretation of WELS Home or World Missions; the originality, creativity, and quality of the submission; and ability to reproduce the artwork (Can it be copied and printed/displayed with reasonable quality and clarity?).
